The flexible pirate ship

The flexible pirate ship allows you to steadily expand your pirate ship, so that your playground investment can stretch over a longer period of time. The advantage of Mercurius is, among other things, that you can place the two sections at a distance to each other, which allows more children to play on and around the pirate ship simultaneously.

A pirate ship filled with play activities

Mercurius has many movable parts: a ship's wheel, compass, anchor, rubber slats, telescope and so on. You can also play in the Captain's cabin, where you will find the treasure chest, dungeon, diamond panel, rubber slats, the moveable crab and many other play activities.

There are big windows on each side of the cabin so that adults can keep an eye without disturbing the children engrossed in their play. There are two aft decks, one 90 cm high and the other 140 cm. On the top aft deck, you will also find the lantern, which lights up when the sun shines through the shockproof polycarbonate. It is also from here that you can go down the slide.
